LUXURIOUS COATS

For Young Women

Slip them on—these beautiful soft, warm coats. Take the tips of the skirt in your fingers and hold your arms out as far as they will reach.

Have you ever seen such fullness—such sweep? Yet they fall softly in graceful folds!

The linings are superb.

As for materials—no season has seen such elegance and richness.

Bolivia cloth, wool velour, mirror velvet, douvety and kitten's ear for the finer coats; wool velour, wool plush and tricotine for the every day coat.

Ripple collars of material, rug collars of fur, cape collars edged with fur, fur belts, flat pockets, flare pockets.

Hardly two of the coats alike—they are as individual as if you had them made to your order. Among the colors there are Wine, rose taupe, rubber grey, champagne (green), Java brown, midnight blue and mustard.

Prices $20.00 to $65.00

RIGOROUS PRECAUTION.

To Prevent Infantile Paralysis Reaching Morrisville.

Morrisville, Sept. 25—A case of infantile paralysis having appeared in Elmore, a meeting of the local board of health of Morrisville was held, with two of the local physicians besides the health officer present, also several business men, and the question of closing the schools and other public places was thoroughly discussed. The secretary of the state board of health was consulted over the telephone, and it was finally decided to close the churches and local theatrons, but allow the schools to continue, all of the five physicians of Morrisville to be at the village schools each morning for a period of two weeks to examine every pupil with the understanding that the parents should have the option of keeping their children at home providing that they confine them strictly to their own premises, keeping them apart from all other children; otherwise that they would be compelled to attend school or be quarantined for a period of two weeks.

Woman's Club Meeting.

The Travel and Current Events committee, with Miss Maud Sprague as chairman, has charge of the next meeting of the St. Johnsbury Woman's club at Pythian hall on Monday, Oct. 2, at 3 o'clock. They have secured Mrs. Frank H. Heald of Milford, N. H., as speaker. Mrs. Heald needs no introduction to a St. Johnsbury audience, as she will be most pleasantly remembered by many as the daughter of Rev. C. L. Goodell. Her travelogue delightfully and informally describes her recent trip around the world. In her journey she met many interesting people and saw some wonderful places.

The social committee will serve refreshments after the program of the afternoon and all are invited to stay for a cup of tea and a chat.

Herbert Coffin Weds Lewiston Girl.

Announcements have been received in town of the marriage of Herbert R. Coffin and Miss Ruth Mildred Morey of Lewiston, Me.

Mr. Coffin is well known in St. Johnsbury where he was manager of the Woolworth store for two years. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Coffin of Boston, and is graduate of Brown university, class of 1910. Mrs. Coffin is a graduate of Bates college, 1914, and is the daughter of Hon. Frank A. Morey, ex-mayor of Lewiston, and speaker of the Maine house of representatives.

The couple will reside in Lewiston, Me., where Mr. Coffin is manager of the Woolworth store of that city.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE ON

Fine Veterans and Some Good Material Available.

Football practice is now in full swing. Capt. Lougee reports the following veterans: S. Parker, G. Mills and P. Farnham for tackle; and Ricker at quarterback. He himself filling a backfield position. Among the other likely looking ones are Gibson, Paine, Harris, Lanpher, D. Farnham, Ellis and Branch. Several freshmen are showing up good in the line under the guidance of Coach Stradley, while Coach Gould is rapidly whipping the backfield into shape.

The excellent spirit shown by the candidates promises to develop a team which will be truly representative of St. Johnsbury Academy.

—There will be a social meeting of St. Margaret's Guild at the parish room on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Commercial Club Is Planning Reception For Boys Who Volunteered To March On Mexico City—Took Place Side By Side With The Regulars And Green Mountain Boys Were Not Found Wanting—Form Of Entertainment On Their Home-coming As Indefinite As The Time Of Their Arrival

COMMITTEE APPOINTED BY CLUB

To Draw Up Plans—Includes Rev. Paul Moody, Elisha May, Frank H. Brooks And George H. Cross Assures St. Johnsbury That Scale Town Will Not Be Behind Other Places In State In Welcoming Soldier Boys Back To The Green Hills

St. Johnsbury awaits the return of Company D from its tour of duty on the Mexican border. The Commercial club is planning a rousing welcome for the boys who went away with the willingness to face death for the Stars and Stripes, but upon whom, without any fault of their own, the duty did not devolve.

The Green Mountain boys took place side by side with the regulars at Eagle Pass and the word has been sent here that the regiment was second to none. The Commercial club of St. Johnsbury, which has taken an active interest in the company, to the extent of raising a fund of over half a thousand dollars for their benefit, is planning for a great home-coming. Just what the form of reception will be is not known at this writing, but the fact that Rev. Paul Moody, Elisha May, George H. Cross and Frank H. Brooks constitute the committee of arrangements is sufficient for the statement that St. Johnsbury will not be behind other towns in the state in the welcoming of the soldier boys back from Texas.

The Vermont militia consisting of 799 men and 46 officers, Col. Ira L. Reeves commanding, arrived at Burlington at an early hour this morning, after a three months' tour of duty at Eagle Pass, Texas. The men spent the remainder of the night in Burlington aboard the cars. Early in the morning they proceeded to Fort Ethan Allen.

At the post they will go into quarters assigned to them by Col. J. C. Dickman of the second cavalry.

The regiment left Eagle Pass Wednesday night, September 20, and traveled three sections. Col. Reeves, Major B. W. Tinker, Lieut. W. H. Taylor and E. B. and K. companies in the third section.

The mustering out of the troops from federal service will take at least a week, during which the men will occupy quarters at the post. The officers for the most part will be stationed in the band barracks. Companies A and B will be in the troop barracks; E and F will be stationed in M troop's quarters; G, H and I in the ambulance corps barracks, and K, L and M in the machine gun barracks. Col. Reeves and staff will be one of the officers' row houses.

Capt. E. F. Hyland, Major Carpenter, Capt. E. W. Woodman, Lieut. Sheldon and Maj. Melville, officers commanding the 160 unassigned recruits have been occupying one of the houses on officers' row since the return of this detachment from Brattleboro when it started for Eagle Pass on August 31. The regiment, while it remains at the post will have a regular program of daily drill and target range practice. The state national guard rifle team, which is to compete in the national matches in Florida October 20, will be picked at this time and will go to Jacksonville a few days after the regiment is mustered out. Only one battalion has been able to get any target practice while at the border, so that the team will be considerably handicapped.

Governor Gates will hold a review of the regiment on Friday afternoon and there will be nightly concerts by the regimental band during the regiment's stay at the post. The 160 unassigned recruits, who have had nothing to do in camp all summer, will be assigned to companies tomorrow.

Adj. Gen. Lee S. Tillotson of St. Albans, who returned last week from a five days' stay at Eagle Pass will be at the post until the regiment is mustered out.

Vermont regiment was regarded by regular army officers as one of the most efficient of the national organizations and made a record of which the state should be proud. The mustering out will be done by battalions and the men will be sent to their homes by companies.

Out from federal service causes the men to revert automatically to their former status as state militiamen and they are still subject to federal as well as state call. The process practically results in giving the men a vacation from active duty until they may be needed again or until their term of enlistment expires. The members of C company made up mostly of U. V. M. students, were discharged upon their arrival and are not subject to either state or federal call without re-enlisting.

Academy Notes.

The question is often asked, How many entered in the first year class? The entering first year class numbers 108, 86 of whom come from the public schools, graduates of last spring. The number coming from the public schools a year ago was 91.

Miss Ruth M. Hill and Haven O. Jamieson of St. Johnsbury and Miss Doris E. Story of Victory registered as students in St. Johnsbury Academy Monday.

The students of the academy held a spirited meeting Tuesday morning under the direction of Coach Gould. Mr. Gould first gave a short talk on the prospects of the football team.

He spoke of the fine spirit shown by the students and townsmen as shown by their attendance at practice on the green and extended a wide invitation to everybody who could in any other way help the team.

Stanton Harris was made cheer leader by appointment, as has been the custom in the past. Taken together, St. Johnsbury Academy athletes have the best outlook for years, for not only are there plenty of available material with the proper enthusiasm, but good coaches to develop that material.

The first meeting of the faculty this year was called Monday night by Principal Benedict for 4 o'clock.

Dr. Flynn Mortimer Bolton, a graduate in the class of 1909 and now a practicing physician in Mechanicsville, N. Y., was a visitor at school Wednesday.

The following students registered Wednesday: Cyrus P. Shute of Bangor, Me.; Joseph G. Percelle of Mechanicsville, N. Y.; Kathleen M. Cox, Carleton A. McDonald and Robert F. Allison of St. Johnsbury. This additional enrollment brings the total number of students up to 308.

Football practice was held on the green at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Surprise Party to Miss Doucet.

A party was tendered Miss Evelyn Doucet, Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Diana Baril. The gathering was in the nature of a farewell as Miss Doucet leaves town Thursday for Montpelier. A very pleasant evening was spent and refreshments were served by the young ladies.

Miss Doucet goes to Montpelier to enter the employ of Mrs. C. Eaton, after having been in the employ of Mrs. Henry Fairbanks for the past four years.

FRUIT SHOW PREMIUMS

Official List of Annual Exhibition To Be Held at Montpelier Indicates Event on a Greater Scale.

(Special to The Caledonian.) Montpelier, Sept. 26.—The official premium list of the annual meeting of the New England fruit show and the Vermont Horticultural society, to be held at Montpelier November 14-16, indicates an event of a greater scale than those of other years. The state department of agriculture and forestry and the agricultural extension service has made a big effort to make the event successful. The following is the list of speakers: Prof. U. P. Hedrick, New York agricultural experiment station lecturer and judge, Geneva, N. Y.; Prof. W. T. Macomber, Dominion horticulturist, lecturer and judge, Ottawa, Canada; the Hon. Wilfrid Wheeler, lecturer and judge, secretary Massachusetts board of agriculture, Boston; Hon. E. S. Brigham, lecturer, state commissioner of agriculture, St. Albans; Dr. J. K. Shaw, lecturer and judge, Massachusetts Agricultural college, Amherst, Mass.; Prof. G. H. Gourley, lecturer, New Hampshire State college, Durham, N. H.; Prof. B. F. Lutzman, lecturer, University of Vermont, Burlington; Prof. F. B. Jenks, lecturer, University of Vermont, Burlington; Prof. A. F. Hawes, state forester, lecturer, Burlington; Thomas Bradlee, lecturer, director Vermont agricultural extension service, University of Vermont, Burlington; W. C. Stone, demonstrator, Vermont agricultural experiment station, Cheshire; E. L. Hargreaves, demonstrator, Vermont agricultural experiment station, Burlington; Miss Beale M. Thayer, demonstrator in home economics, university of Vermont agricultural extension service; George W. Perry, lecturer, ex-president Vermont Horticultural society, Cheshire; E. L. Ingalls, lecturer, state agent in charge of boys and girls' club work, University of Vermont; F. H. Abbott, lecturer, Washington county agricultural agent, Barre.

The objects of the exhibition are "to demonstrate the superior quality of New England fruit; to encourage better methods of production and marketing; and to call attention to the possibilities of commercial fruit culture in the New England states."

Early entries are urged. No exhibitor may make more than one entry in any one number of a class and no exhibit may compete for more than one number. All exhibits must have been grown in the New England states. Six p. m., November 14 is the last hour of preparation; exhibits must be ready then for inspection by the judges. Agricultural colleges, experiment stations and other public institutions may exhibit, but not for prizes.

Sweepstakes prizes will be offered respectively for the best barrel of apples of any variety packed for market, and for the best box of apples. There are four classes. Class C consists of apples boxed for market; class B, of apples boxed and barreled; class A, apples and pears, plate exhibits and specials, in six groups of which the fifth is of individual exhibits and the sixth of pears and other fruits. Class D, of exhibits in which only Vermonters may compete for prizes.
